THE WINADU BUGLER vs. THE WINADUDE

Well, The Bugler won round one. The Yankees fell just short of winning their fourth consecutive World Series. The campers voted on this topic and the overwhelming choice was:

Will Michael Jordan be able to lead the Wizards to the playoffs?

The Bugler says:

“He got game”

MJ was the best there ever was, and he still has mad game. He motivates people like none other and people come to play every night just because they get a chance to share the court with him. There is no way that His Airness will allow his team to miss the playoffs. I know he is struggling in the early going, but he also struggled in the first few games of his last return. But you watch, after the new year Air Jordan will get more comfortable with the ball, score in the 30's regularly, and begin winning. Look for the Wiz to go on a big win streak late in the season, and for MJ's Wizards to be in the thick of the Eastern Conference playoffs. Also, to help out he has some nice young talent around him in Richard Hamilton and Kwame Brown who will develop over the season, and a savvy veteran in Christian Laettner. I look forward to seeing all you campers in Washington "23" jerseys this summer, showing the colors of the 5 seed in the east.

Can he still do it?

The Winadude says:

“Fat Chance”

Ok, so because Mariano Rivera suddenly forgot how to close a game out, I was wrong about the Yankees winning yet another World Series. However, we have many more arguments to go before declaring a true expert. This issue is a far easier task, and there's no way I can lose: Michael Jordan and the Washington Wizards have no chance at all of making the playoffs in the Eastern Conference this season.

The Bugler wants to talk about MJ's skill at making those around him better. But turning really bad players into just below average players won't cut it in the NBA. Sure, they have some guys who can play a little ball, like Hamilton, Brown, and Laettner. But face the facts Bugler! They're not a good basketball team. They're one of the worst shooting teams in the league, and even when Michael explodes with 44, like he did against Utah, they still lose! MJ is averaging 27 points a game, and only one other guy (Hamilton) is in double digits. Sorry, MJ, not only have you lost a step but you also picked the wrong team at the wrong time for your comeback. The Wizards will be extremely lucky to sniff 40 wins, let alone make the playoffs.
